THE CHAT IS BACK!

Date: October 20, 2022, at 7:30 pm!

By: Christine Bishop, Research Scientist, Environment & Climate Change Canada

Come join Christine as she tells us about the Western Yellow-breasted Chat. Its populations in BC was listed in 2000 under the Canadian Species At Risk Act. Its populations are already drastically restricted due to the loss of over 85% of its key nesting habitat – wild rose thickets, in the Okanagan and Similkameen valley systems.

She will also give us an update on the Rattle Snake Population.

Free, Everyone Welcome!
